

MEDIATION

written by Dennis_ Rombaut_ | June 19, 2021

Mediation is on the rise. Since the Act of 18 June 2018, the judge can order mediation at any stage of the proceedings on his own initiative or at the request of one of the parties. Courts are increasingly making use of this. The benefit of mediation is the confidential nature of the procedure, which benefits the reconciliation of the parties. The parties themselves work towards an acceptable solution for both parties. This significantly increases the prospect of future compliance with the agreement. We are pleased to assist you in the framework of a mediation proceeding. Studio Legale will assist you as lawyer of one of the parties in the context of a mediation. Currently three lawyers of our office are taking on a course to become a certified mediator.

- preparation of a mediation interview (or negotiation);
- assistance during the mediation interview;
- monitoring the compliance with the mediation procedure;
- the drawing up of a mediation-agreement.
